Spotlight Lesson

Now we want you to experience what the kids will experience when it is used next summer.

Drawing

M.C. Escher is an illustrator who often used pencil in his work. Today we will be emulating this individual's manner of drawing.

M.C. Escher

Escher is most well known for tessellation art and illustrations in relations to relativity. He used shading and highlight to create illusions in his drawings.

Pencil Drawings

Shading and highlights make a drawing come alive! There are many different pencils with different darkneses to make shading easier.

Materials

- Drawing paper
- Eraser
- Pencils- HB, B, B4 and Ebony
  - Hb light, B medium, B4 Dark, Ebony darkest.

Let's Begin!

Draw lightly!
Draw an oval with a vertical line
going down the middle, and 4 horizontal lines across,
they are exactly half points from each other.

Eyes

On the middle horizontal line, draw 2 almond shapes (even spaces apart is the length of one eye).

Nose

Down the center line, draw nose.

Nose should end at the second horizontal line.

Mouth and Ears

Ears should be in between the first and second horizontal lines.

Draw the mouth along the 3rd line

Finishing Touches

Add eyebrows and hair, and add inner eye (iris and pupil).
